

Alfa Laval Repair for freshwater generators

Service to restore optimal performance

If your freshwater generator experiences unusual variations in operation, a breakdown or even excessive wear, it is important to secure quality repair with minimal downtime. Alfa Laval experts are always close by to return your freshwater generator to optimal performance.

What we do

Under your supervision, specialized Alfa Laval service engineers inspect your equipment to identify service needs. This can be done during preventive maintenance work, before a breakdown actually occurs. Our experts also determine whether the repair would best be handled at an Alfa Laval service centre.

At a service centre or on board, our experts repair your freshwater generator as agreed. Our state-of-the-art service centres, which all provide the same high-quality service, are strategically located worldwide to minimize transport times.
